Skills Planning and Reporting

- 1 Introduction
- 2 Legislative & Policy Mandates
- 3 2021/22 Performance Information Overview
- 4 Conclusion

Introduction

The rationale for the SETA's existence:

- The Skills Development Act, 1998 (SDA) makes provision for the establishment of Sector Education and Training Authorities for each economic sector.

Is one of the 21 SETAs that was established and entrusted with the requisite authority to facilitate the skills development in the safety and security sector.

The sector skills plan (SSP) – directs the skills development in the sector:

- Section 10 (1)(a) of Skills Development Act of 1998 as amended.
- National Skills Development Plan (NSDP).
- The SSP Framework as approved by Director General of the Dept. of Higher Education & Training.

It facilitates & monitors skills development in the sector:

- Re(up)skilling the workforce in the sector.
- Support dynamic & impactful skills development in the sector.
- Core sectoral occupations - build & maintain competencies in the sector.

VISION

1

The world is changing at an incredible pace and people will need skills to be able to analyse, adapt, problem solve, manage and work in an increasingly connected way.

3

The 4IR is changing tasks within occupations and therefore, also the skills required to perform them.

2

Understanding complexities of skills shortages can help shift the emphasis of policies, programs and investments that are needed.

4

Skills development is a cumulative process that occurs at every stage, takes place in a variety of settings, engages a highly diverse stakeholders, involves multiple delivery mechanisms, and must constantly respond to changing occupational requirements.

5

Training in and of itself is not a panacea for all that ails of the labour market. There is no “one-size-fits-all” approach to training: training programs must be tailored to fit the specific needs of the sector or sub-sector(s).

7

South Africa belongs to all its people and the future of our country is our collective future. Making it work is our collective responsibility. All South Africans seek a better future for themselves and their children.

6

The National Development Plan (NDP) 2030 Vision: articulates well our path that Our future – make it work.

8

“Decent work, a universal aspiration, is the best path to self-advancement of women and men. It underpins the stability of communities and families. It is an integral component of strategies for sustainable growth and development. And skills are pivotal to decent work strategies.”
